Roosevelt Will Not Visit the Vatican.

EXCHANGES ARE AMICABLE.

London, April 4.—Gen. William Booth, of the Salvation Army, is seriously ill at his home today. He fainted yesterday and cancelled all engagements for the week. He is 81 years old and failing.

King Entertains Roosevelt.
Rome, April 4.—King Victor received Roosevelt at the palace this morning. The audience with King Victor lasted two hours, one of the longest audiences ever granted except on political occasions. It is said the king wanted to hear Roosevelt's side of the Vatican story. After Roosevelt and Kermit left, the king said: "He considered Roosevelt one of the greatest men in the world today, and the meeting strengthened the impression." He refused to divulge the details of the interview. Roosevelt visited the Pantheon and placed a wreath on the tombs of Kings Emmanuel and Victor Humbert. Hundreds gathered around the automobile whenever they stopped. They received a visit from the Cuban minister and Mrs. Tipler and Clark, from the Methodist College called on Roosevelt. King Victor will take Roosevelt driving tomorrow morning. It is an unprecedented honor.

Vatican Visit Is Off.
Rome, April 4.—The audience which it was believed Roosevelt would have with the pope Tuesday will not occur, owing to conditions which the Vatican imposed, which Suits Filed in Circuit Court.

The Leigh Banana Case company, of Chicago, filed suit against J. A. Rudy. The company alleges it rented a building at 117 North Second street, but on account of refuse and water from the kitchen of the New Richmond hotel the company was forced to abandon the building. It was unable to sub-lease the building and seeks to recover damages.

Mrs. Breedlove Here.
Mrs. Arthur Breedlove, who caused the arrest of her husband in Oklahoma and then refused to prosecute him, is now in Paducah with her infant child, dependent on the Charity club. Several days ago Acting Mayor Ed Hannan and Chief Singery gave a railroad ticket to her sister, Miss Ida Harmon, who went to Central City.

Married at Metropolis.
Metropolis, Ill., April 4. (Special.)—Magistrate Liggett has started off with a good record for April, having married a couple Saturday, Sunday and today. They were, in the order of their appearance, as follows: Jas. B. Carrigan, of Cunningham, Ky., and Maud Epperson, of Metter; Henry White, a carpenter, and May Barton, of Paducah; Charles E. Stephon, a florist, and Maud A. Craig, of Paducah.

SHIPS COLLIDE AND MANY MAY BE DROWNED

Falmouth, Ind., April 4.—At least 22 lives were lost in a collision off Lands End. Belgian tug, John Bull, arriving here, reports that while she was towing the British bark Kate Thomas an unknown vessel cut Kate Thomas in two. All aboard were lost except the cabin boy, who clung to a piece of wreckage. The boat sank instantly. The Captain of the John Bull states that he is not known how badly the other boat is injured. She may have sunk. The captain and mate's wives were lost in the wreck.

—An unknown burglar tried to break into the residence of Mike Ketter, 226 Farley place, this morning about 2 o'clock. While prizing at a rear door he overturned a box, and the members of the family awakened, but the would be burglar fled.

—As a result of a fall from a bicycle, Alex Venters, a mail carrier is off duty. Mr. Venters was riding home when his wheel struck a brick and he was thrown heavily to the street, striking his left shoulder, and fracturing a small bone.

General Council May Consider at Once Further Extensions of Work on City Streets and Sidewalks

Work Already Ordered, But Not Started May Come Under Ten Year Plan—Health Report For Month.

The general council will meet in regular session tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall. One important matter that may be acted upon will be the question of taking steps for immediate street and sidewalk improvements, as the new 10-year assessment bond bill has been made a law. However, before any action is taken the bill may be tested for its constitutionality, as some members of the council have their doubts. Much other routine business will come up for disposal tonight.

It is probable that sidewalk work already ordered on Clay and other streets may come under a bond issue and the ten-year assessment plan.

Health Report.
"The death rate is still too high," said the health officer today in making out his monthly report for March to be submitted to the city health board. "This is a warning to people to clean up their alleys and get rid of all trash piles and manure. Warrants will be procured against violators if they fail to comply with the orders from the health department."

There were 30 deaths among residents of Paducah last month, 16 of these being colored people. That is almost one death for each day in the month. Four deaths were from tuberculosis. Only one death was accidental. The health officer is convinced that the death rate can be lowered considerably by strict observance of the rules of health and the orders given out by the health department. He believes the people of Paducah will co-operate with the health authorities in stamping out contagious diseases as much as possible.

The birth rate in March was considerably lower than in February. The total number was 28. Ten were white males, six white females, four colored males and eight colored females. The total number of births for February was 49.

Star Witness Robbed

While returning home from Marion Mrs. Irene K. Robertson lost a pocket book on the steamer Nashville Saturday night. She was one of the star witnesses for the commonwealth in the night rider cases tried last week at Marion, and was returning home on the steamer with Henry Bennett, and his wife. In the purse was $9.80 besides a number of small articles.

B. & O. Grants Raise.

Baltimore, April 4.—It was learned this afternoon that an agreement between the officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and its engineers, who are demanding more pay has been reached. It is understood that the Baltimore and Ohio is to raise the pay of engineers on the main line from $4.50 to $4.70, and on the branch line $3.50 to $3.90.

Going to Normal School.

Misses Jessie Acker, Kate Steinhauer and Mildred Pieper left yesterday at noon for Bowling Green, where they will attend the state normal school. They are members of the February graduating class of the High school, but will return in time to participate in the commencement exercises.

Truant's Mother is Anxious About Him

As to what disposition the Louisville police will make of John Leslie Carter and Willie Raburn, "wild west" youngsters of Paducah, is not known. Mrs. Eliza Raburn, mother of Willie Raburn, called on Chief of Police Singery this morning, seeking information, but the chief was unable to enlighten her as he has received no word from Louisville. The boys were caught there last week, hungry and penniless.

Mrs. Raburn, who is a good woman, says Willie's fall from grace is due directly to the pranks of John Leslie Carter, the worst kid the police have ever dealt with. She says a week ago, Thursday afternoon she dressed

TAFT BELIEVES BILL WILL PASS

THINKS RAILROAD MEASURE WILL BE SIGNED BY HIM SOON.

Philadelphia, April 4.—An aged hysterical woman, he saw attempting to burst through the police lines yesterday occupied the attention of President Taft this morning. The woman told the policeman she had kissed Taft when a child and wanted to kiss him again. The policeman turned her away. Taft lunched and dined last night with his aunt, Della. He visited his old schoolhouse and swimming hole.

En route to Washington today President Taft discussed his railroad bill, now in congress, and said he had reached the conclusion it would come to him for signature as he wants it. The president dictated a letter of thanks to the train service convention, which presented to him a medal. Railroad men are satisfied with Taft's view of the labor problem.

MOVES TO QUASH SUMMONS IN CASE

MR. EADES CLAIMS HIS WIFE WAS NOT RESIDENT OF THIS COUNTY.

On the grounds that Mrs. Woodson Coles Eades, who has filed suit in the McCracken circuit court for divorce and alimony from her husband, William Eades, was not a resident of McCracken county at the time of the filing of the petition, attorneys for the defendant filed a motion this morning to quash the summons and the return by the sheriff. The defense says that Mrs. Eades did not reside in this county, and, consequently, the suit is not in the jurisdiction of the McCracken circuit court. Mr. Eades has employed Campbell & Campbell and former State Senator N. W. Utley to represent him, and a hard fought battle through the courts is expected.

Paducah Presbytery.
Deacons and elders will be installed at the First Presbyterian church next Sunday, and April 15 the Paducah Presbytery, South, will meet here. It is the regular spring meeting. On Sunday, April 17, Dr. H. W. Burwell will be installed in the pastorate of the First church by the Presbytery. The Rev. Dr. Cummins, of Henderson, will deliver the charge.

There was one addition to the church yesterday morning. Dr. H. W. Burwell preached on "The Regulating Principle of All True Christian Character." His text was "Whatsoever He sayeth unto you do it." John II, 15. By placing the emphasis on different words in the sentence, Dr. Burwell showed how each reflected a phase of Christian duty; but the full obligation of Christian living is summed up in obedience to the commands of Christ.

At night he preached a powerful call to those outside the church to stand up for faith, taking his text from Exodus XXXII, 26. There were two responses.

Princeton Presbytery.

Two, good services were held at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday and two members were received. The Rev. E. B. Landis, Mr. John G. Miller and Miss Besie Hovenden, will leave tomorrow morning to attend the Princeton Presbytery of the Presbyterian church of the U. S. A. at Hopkinsville, where the Rev. Mr. Landis will preach the opening sermon tomorrow night. On the way to Hopkinsville the Rev. Mr. Landis and Mr. John G. Miller will stop at Princeton and attend a meeting of the board of trustees of Princeton Collegiate Institute of which Mr. Miller is a member.

Will Have Rest Room.

Two large congregations attended the services at the First Baptist church yesterday and two additions to the church were received. The building next to the church on Fifth street that was formerly used as a parsonage will be turned into a rest room and reading room for the members of the church.

ROBBERS MAKE HAUL.

FISCAL COURT IN SPRING SESSION

WILL ELECT PHYSICIAN AND FIX TAX RATE FOR THE YEAR.

Tomorrow will be the busiest session of the fiscal court since the new administration entered office, and the court house will be the mecca for a number of politicians. The county physician will be elected for two years.

The county tax rate will be fixed tomorrow, and it is said that it will remain the same as last year, $1.16 on the $100 valuation. It is possible that the road and bridge fund may be increased, because the mileage of graded roads will be increased this year. The apportionment for last year was: County levy fund, 18 cents; pauper, 8 cents; road and bridge fund 24 cents, and sinking fund 24 cents. This makes the county tax rate 66 cents, while the state tax is 50 cents.

Bids for the improvement of the able that it will require two days to dirt roads in the county will be opened, and the contract awarded for the districts. It is not improbable that the business.

This afternoon the poor house and the road committees were in session preparing their reports for the court tomorrow.

Mayfield Pastor to Leave.

Mayfield, Ky., April 4.—Rev. Eugene Kuntz, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place for the past three years, has resigned as pastor of this church here and he, together with his family, will leave here on the 26th of April for Blackwell, Okla., where he will take charge of a church at that place.

In Bankruptcy.

Judge E. W. Bagby left this morning for Benton to attend a meeting of creditors in the bankruptcy case of J. D. Eades, a bankrupt merchant of Birmingham.

Livingston Protests

To protest against an increase in the valuation of property in Livingston county by the state board of equalization, a committee from Smithland passed through Paducah last night for Frankfort to appear before the board. In the committee were: County Attorney Lai D. Threlkeld, County Judge W. N. Clark and J. L. Abell, former county judge. The valuation of Livingston county was increased ten per cent by the state board.

Farmer's Union Rally

State Secretary R. L. Barnett of the Farmers Union will attend a county union meeting at Dixon in Webster county Wednesday. DEAN CLAXTON OF U. OF T. AGREES TO DELIVER ADDRESS

Commencement Speaker One of Leading Educators of Nation.

Arcadia School Board Elects Teachers.

CENSUS ENUMERATORS AT WORK

Dr. P. P. Claxton, dean of the department of education of the University of Tennessee, of Knoxville, Tenn., has consented to deliver the commencement address to the 1910 graduating class of the High school. His acceptance has been received by Superintendent J. A. Carnegie, and it is satisfactory to the school officials and students. The address will be delivered at the Kentucky theater June 9.

Dr. Claxton has a national reputation as one of the foremost educators of the country, and is noted as a brilliant orator. At the session of the National Superintendents association in Indianapolis last month his address on "A Richer Moral Idea" was one of the most eloquent delivered at the meeting, and drew forth favorable comment from all the educators at the session. The Paducah graduates were unusually successful in securing Dr. Claxton for the commencement address.

When the State Federation of Woman's clubs met in Paducah two years ago, Dr. Claxton delivered an address, and his reputation as an orator, he is a leader of educational work in the south and is in charge of the summer school of the University of Tennessee.

Arcadia School.
Teachers for the Arcadia graded school have been elected by the trustees for the first session of the school, which will be next fall. Prof. W. A. Middleton was elected principal and Mr. Ed Ross and Miss Cora Miles teachers. Professor Middleton was principal of the consolidated school until he resigned to accept the position of county school superintendent for several months. All the teachers are well qualified for the positions.

The residents of the Arcadia several months ago voted to establish the graded school, and in a short time will begin work of enlarging the school building for the purpose of accommodating the increased number of pupils. It is expected that the school will have an enrollment of at least 150 pupils.

School Enumeration.
Taking of the school enumeration in the city has begun, and Mr. J. S. Cummings, who secured the contract has about finished the first ward. It is important too that the name of every person between the ages of six and 21 years old, married or unmarried, residing in the city is secured, whether attending the public schools or not, as the state allows so much per capita for the schools. The school needs all the money due from the state, and when the enumerator visits the homes the resident should see that the name of every person of school age is given.

New Chairs Arrive.
The new chairs for the High school have arrived and were placed in use today. Owing to the increase in the attendance it was necessary to purchase several dozen extra chairs. The chairs are equipped with arms for use in the recitation rooms.

Nothing new has developed towards a solution of the High school robbery last Tuesday although nearly a week has passed without a single fruitful clue developing. It is expected that the grand jury, which will convene April 18, will investigate the mystery.

Miss Clara Brown, a teacher of the Longfellow school, is ill at her home in Murray, and Mrs. H. L. Donovan is in charge of her room.

The Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, will address the students of the High school tomorrow morning at opening exercises.

Fatal Balloon Accident

Breslau, Germany, April 4.—Professor Abegg, a noted German scientist, was killed at Breslau today in a balloon accident.

Census Bureau Clerks.
Washington, April 4.—The census bureau made public the names of the Kentucky clerks who will serve in the census bureau in this city. The appointments are the result of an examination held in January and the appointees all possessed a high average. Among them are: W. T. Jewell, Livingston; Fabrun Ambuster, Hickman; R. R. Gilbert, Crittenden.

Governor Willson Offers Thatcher's Place to McKenzie Todd—Tater Day at Benton—News of State.

Marion, Ky., April 4. (Special.)—As if in answer to the charge of the legislative committee that the efforts of the state military in the Black Patch did not produce a single conviction of a night rider, Boon Bush was convicted and sentenced to one year here for participating in the raid on Dycusburg, when Henry Bennett, formerly of that town, but now of Metropolis, Ill., was brutally whipped. Capt. Carl Henderson, former county attorney, who was in command of troops during the night rider war, is chiefly responsible for the success of the prosecution. As commander of the troops, he used his knowledge of the law to make effective the evidence and confessions secured, and he has worked indefatigably since to vindicate the state government in its course in suppressing lawlessness.

Probe at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., April 4. (Special.)—In his charge to the grand jury Circuit Judge Stout directed it to investigate the charges of bribery made by Senator Watkins in the legislature.

Distiller's Son Kills Himself.

Owensboro, Ky., April 4. (Special.)—Daniel Monarch, son of a well known distiller, committed suicide by firing a bullet through his lungs. Depression over financial affairs was the reason.

Dr. Amoss Arrested.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 4. (Special.)—Irving Glass and Dr. D. A. Amoss, indicted for the raid on Hopkinsville, were brought to this city.

Tobacco Factories Close Down.

Louisville, April 4. (Special.)—Following an order from New York two of the American Tobacco company's largest leaf plants in the country here were closed indefinitely as the result of the strike. A big crowd of striking women and girls tried to start a strike at the Mengel Box works and other plants, but were prevented by the police.

Gored by a Bull.

Danville, Ky., April 4. (Special.)—Garrett Wood, a prominent farmer, was killed by a bull.

McKenzie Todd Chosen.

Frankfort, Ky., April 4. (Special.)—Governor Willson has offered Thatcher's place to McKenzie Todd, his own secretary.

Union Miners Return to Work.

Central City, Ky., April 4. (Special.)—All union miners returned to work this morning, pending the settlement of the new wage scale. An agreement is practically assured.

"Tater Day" at Benton.

Benton, Ky., April 4. (Special.)—All roads lead to Benton today, and a large crowd was present to celebrate Marshall county's unique day, "hoss and tater day." Hundreds of farmers are around the court house exchanging sweetpotato seed and preparing for the spring planting. Circuit court began also today, and the grand jury was empaneled, and the session of court inaugurated. Circuit Judge William Reed presided, but the session of court is expected to be short. Many people from Paducah, Mayfield and Murray arrived today.

BIDS ARE OPENED FOR FIRST NAT'L

BANK WILL DOUBLE UP WITH GLOBE BANK AND TRUST COMPANY.

Bids for the erection of the new building of the First National bank were opened this afternoon. There were several bidders, but the committee did not award the contract. The bids will be considered carefully by the directors before the contract is awarded. While the new building is under construction the bank will occupy the building now occupied by the Globe Bank and Trust company. The two banks will consolidate and remain in the building at 306 Broadway until the new home is completed.

Dr. Ed P. Farley left this morning for Benton on business.

Telephone Values—Single System vs. Dual System

KNOXVILLE'S "OLD" TELEPHONES

Our friends at Knoxville are in a bad way over their telephone service. That city, it should be understood, is maintaining two telephone companies and they are getting as a consequence poor service according to a report made of the action of the board of trade recently taken. It appears that Knoxville has to use the old-fashioned crank still, although we believe they do not have to call for "one on two" as they had formerly to do. Still the people of the village appear to have backed up and found that with the old "crank ring" they are about ten years behind. The occasion for this untoward system is that neither of the companies feels that it can afford to spend any very large sums of money for additions and up-to-date improvements and take the chances of securing business enough to justify it for each seems to feel that whatever improvement one installs will be added by the other and the same old nuisance and ruinous competition will continue without any appreciable financial benefit to either.

Chattanooga forestalled all that sort of trouble some years ago by the sensible contract it made with the East Tennessee Telephone company. As a result we have had the automatic central energy system for years and at the same price the Knoxville subscriber pays to either of the two companies there we get an infinitely better service. The Knoxville patrons who use both companies pay twice as much as the Chattanooga who uses only one.

Besides improving the service the policy adopted here has proved of immense benefit not only to the company, but to the people themselves. It has enabled the company to double its list of subscribers and the people to get in direct communication with each in a reasonable cheap and convenient manner. It might be stated, incidentally, that the telephone exchange in this city has 6,000 subscribers, which is 50 per cent, or nearly so, more than both companies together have in Knoxville. Of course a large part of this superior number is due to the fact that Chattanooga is a larger city than Knoxville, but that hardly explains why Chattanooga has double the telephone subscribers for the East Tennessee company's service Knoxville has, and nearly three times the number of the independent company, for we are not yet quite double the size of our neighbor, although we hope to be.

The problem is a serious one for our neighbor to solve, and we shall watch with interest how it is to be done.—Editorial Chattanooga Times March 16.

According to the United States geological survey, 22,840 men have been killed in our coal mines in the last seventeen years, and nearly 50,000 have been seriously injured.

DID WOLTER HAVE MURDER MANIA?

BELIEVED THAT OTHERS WERE HIS VICTIMS.

Look up Every Girl Whose Name is in Directory—Wolter Has Nerves of Iron.

POLICE RUN DOWN CLEW.

New York, April 4.—Police Inspector Titus is convinced that Albert Wolter, indicted for the murder of Ruth Amor Wheeler, who visited his apartment seeking employment as a stenographer, has silenced more than one victim. The entire staff of detectives under Inspector Titus are tracing every move of Wolter since he came to New York with his mother three years ago. Even when he was only 15 years old, evidence has been obtained that several little girls complained of his conduct toward them to their parents.

Every girl whose name appears in Wolter's diary was traced.

"I believe," said Inspector Titus tonight, "if Wolter could be induced to tell the truth about what he was doing during the last two years that he would give the names of one or more young victims of his homicidal mania."

"I have seen and talked with thousands of criminals, and Wolter is the most remarkable criminal I ever saw."

Has Nerves of Iron. "Although highly emotional and likely to break into tears at any moment, he has nerves of iron. The enormity of the killing of Ruth Wheeler does not impress him in any appreciable degree, and he is confident that he will be acquitted. I believe that he has choked more than one girl to death, and I will not rest until I get the proof of the other crimes."

Mary Schwartz, one of the girls who visited the room of Wolter in Seventy-fifth street, was found today by a detective and her testimony will be of value in showing the system employed by Wolter to induce girls to visit his apartment.

Miss Schwartz said she put an advertisement in a newspaper asking for employment as a stenographer, and received a postal card signed by Albert Wolter, secretary.

She went to his flat on Wednesday, and after some talk about her experience, Wolter said:

"I will consult my father about hiring you, and will give you an answer if you will return here tomorrow morning."

Miss Schwartz said that she distrusted Wolter, and decided not to keep the appointment for the next day at nine o'clock.

The hour was the same that Ruth Wheeler went to Wolter's room.

to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness and general debility," he writes. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Blood and Nerves. 50c at all druggists.

News of Theatres

H. H. Frazee will present at the Kentucky for a matinee and night Saturday, April 9, "The Time, the Place and the Girl." During a run of 463 consecutive nights in Chicago this piece was received with such unequivocal approval by the theatergoers of that city that it not only ran this length of time but exceeded in point of attendance any play that has ever appeared there.

Richard & Pringle's Georgia minstrels, a company of negro artists, gave two performances in the Academy of Music yesterday. The singing was good.—Roanoke (Va.) Times, Sat. Jan. 28, 1910. At the Kentucky Wednesday, April 6.

The merry musical extravaganza, "The Cat and the Fiddle," will be offered at the Kentucky theater tonight, comes well recommended. A big musical treat.

A Little Matter of Pronunciation. The mother of the girl baby, herself named Rachel, frankly told her husband that she was tired of the good old names borne by most of the feminine members of the family, and she would like to give the little girl a name entirely different. Then she wrote on a slip of paper "Eugenie," and asked her husband if he didn't think that was a pretty name.

The father studied the name for a moment and then said: "Well, call her Yousheenie, but I don't see vat you gain by it."—Everybody's Magazine.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS.

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendencies to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store.—The Rexall Store, W. B. McPherson, 425 Broadway.

ROOSEVELT

Roosevelt refuses to accept.

Although definite negotiations relative to the meeting ended before Roosevelt left Egypt, the announcement was withheld until after Roosevelt reached Rome, at the solicitation of his American Catholic friends, who believed in the meantime that the Vatican might change its attitude. One of Roosevelt's American friends, who had been with him in Egypt, who came to Rome without any authorization from Roosevelt, interceded with Cardinal Merry del Val, papal secretary, in an endeavor to avoid the situation which has caused the sensation. His efforts were unavailing.

While in Gondokoro in February last, Roosevelt wrote Ambassador Lelshman, saying he would be glad of the honor of an audience with King Victor Emmanuel and the pope. The audience with the king was arranged. Before an arrangement could be reached for an audience with the pope, several telegrams passed, and the negotiations ended by Roosevelt refusing in any way to be limited as to his conduct.

Mr. Roosevelt, while declining, had not made nor considered any engagements in Rome except those of an official character.

The Negotiations.

The history of the negotiations follows: "Mr. Kennedy, rector of the American Catholic College, in reply to the inquiry I made, requests that the following be transmitted to you: 'The holy father would be delighted to grant an audience to Roosevelt April 5, and hopes nothing will arise to prevent, such as the much regretted incident which made the reception of Fairbanks impossible.'"

Replying Roosevelt said: "Present the following to Kennedy: 'It would be a real pleasure to be presented to the holy father for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his right to receive or not whomsoever he chooses, for any reason that seems good to him, and if he does not receive me I shall not question the propriety of his action. On the other hand, I must decline to submit to any conditions, which would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust that on April 5 he will find it convenient to receive me.'"

Roosevelt at Cairo then received a cablegram from Lelshman giving the following from Kennedy: "The audience cannot take place except with the understanding expressed in the former message."

Roosevelt then sent a message to Lelshman saying: "The proposed presentation of course, is now impossible."

Statement to Public. Roosevelt particularly desires that the incident be regarded by his friends as purely personal, that it shall not give rise to acrimonious controversy. He cabled today a statement to Rev. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, at New York, saying: "I wish to make a statement to my fellow-Americans. I am sure a great majority of my fellow citizens, Catholics as well as Protestants, will feel that I acted in the only way possible for an American. I earnestly hope the incident will be treated as merely personal and above all, not warranting the slightest exhibition of rancor or bitterness. Among my best and closest friends are many Roman Catholics. The respect and regard of those are as dear to me as the respect and regard for the Protestants."

"The more an American sees of other countries the more profound must be his feelings of gratitude that in his own land there is not merely complete toleration, but the heartiest good will and sympathy between the sincere and honest men of different faiths—so complete that in their daily relations the Catholics and Protestants work together without thought of difference of creed.

"This is a condition so vital to our national well being that nothing should be permitted to jeopardize it. Bitter comment and criticism, acrimonious attack and defense, are not only profitless, but harmful. To seize upon such an incident as this as an occasion for a controversy would be wholly indefensible and should be frowned upon by all good Americans."

Both Do Good Work.

Roosevelt says that in his journey in Africa he visited many Catholic as well as Protestant missions. He looked forward to telling the people at home of the good work being done by both. It would cause him a real pang to have anything said or done that would hurt or give pain to his friends as a result of this incident.

It is understood that in the negotiations, Kennedy was acting under orders of Cardinal Merry del Val, and that the telegrams, therefore, were between Roosevelt and the papal secretary. When a correspondent called at the Vatican, great surprise was expressed when it was learned that Roosevelt gave out a telegram in the light of diplomatic documents.

Kennedy explained that on March 21 John W. Garrett, first secretary of the embassy, called upon him to "transmit" Roosevelt's request for an audience on April 5. He said Garrett insisted on the word "transmit." Kennedy informed Garrett that he would present the request to the proper authorities and promised a response as soon as possible. Kennedy said:

Kennedy Explains.

"The following day I was authorized to send Roosevelt the first message, which is quoted in his statement. The reference to the Fairbanks incident was intended by the Vatican as only a friendly intimation. I noticed that my second message was not fully given. It ran thus:

"His holiness will be much pleased to grant an audience to Roosevelt, for whom he entertains great esteem, both personally and as president of the United States. His holiness quite recognizes Roosevelt's entire right to freedom of conduct. On the other hand, in view of circumstances for which neither his holiness nor Roosevelt are responsible, an audience could not occur except on the understanding expressed in the former message."

Used to It.

Recently a lady witness in a courtship up the state was subjected to a troublesome fire of cross-questions, and the lawyer, thinking that some apology was necessary, tried to square himself.

"I really hope, madame," said he, "that I don't annoy you with all these questions."

"Oh, no," was the prompt reply. "I am accustomed to it."

"You don't mean it?" wonderingly returned the lawyer.

"Yes," rejoined the lady, "I have a 6-year-old boy at home."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Catarrh Can Quickly Be Cured.

A bottle of Hyomei a hard rubber pocket inhaler that will last a lifetime, and simple instructions for curing catarrh make a Hyomei outfit.

Into the inhaler you pour a few drops of magical Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me). This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it over the germ infested membrane where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrh germs.

Hyomei is made of Australian eucalyptol combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe.

It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds, or money back. It cleans out a stuffed up head in a few minutes.

Sold by druggists everywhere, and by Gilbert's drug store. Complete outfit $1.00. And remember that extra bottles if afterwards needed cost only 50 cents. Breathe it, that's all.

To break up cold in head or chest in a few minutes, pour a teaspoonful of Hyomei into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe the vapor.

ALL FOR TEN CENTS

How to Remedy It.

Joseph H. Choate tells a story that he heard Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman quote in illustration of a point he was making in a political speech.

A man had complained to three friends, an Englishman, an Irishman and a Scot, that his servant broke a great deal of china.

The matter-of-fact Englishman gave a short bit of practical advice, "Dismiss him."

"Take it out of his wages," suggested the thrifty Scot.

Objection to the latter course was made on the ground that the wages were less than the amount of the damage; whereupon the Irishman came to the rescue with:

"Then raise his wages."—Lippincott's.

Sing Ho the Fishy Doctor and the Babe.

The old physician is an enthusiastic angler in every sense of the term. While on his way home from a fishing trip he received an emergency call. The proud newly-made father was impatient to have the child weighed, but couldn't find the steel-yards; so the physician had to use the pocket scales with which he weighed the fish.

"Great Scott, doctor!" exclaimed the father, as he saw the pointer go up. "Thirty-seven and a half pounds!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Daily Thought.

Whatever makes men good Christians, makes them good citizens.—Daniel Webster.

The old ladies of Worcester find that Willie Taff, while able to eat as much apple pie as ever, is not as easy to kiss.

PADUCAH TAKES REAL LEAD.

Booster buttons and Hurrah for Paducah badges are all right, if they represent genuine sentiment; but the town that appeals to a prospector is a town with well paved and well lighted and clean streets, good water, good schools and a high standard of morality, a good health report, a small fire loss and cheap insurance rates; big property valuation and low rates of taxation—these, of course, coupled with means of transportation and good freight rates. A citizenship that will devote its attention to making the city healthful and attractive for residence, and comparatively advantageous for manufacturing and distributing, need not bother much about the booster buttons.

Paducah has achieved a position of advantage by the wise economy of expenditure; she now ranks ahead of any other city in Kentucky in fire protection. The present city administration, including Fire Chief Wood, who has been working to improve the fire fighting facilities of the city, is deserving of great credit for getting the city in Class 2½, and even going beyond that. It will be so easy to get into Class 2 that no rest should be taken until the city attains that coveted position. Then the property owners will have better fire protection at a less cost; and when strangers come into Kentucky seeking a location, they will compare insurance rates of Paducah with rates elsewhere, and the comparison will constitute an effective advertisement for this city.

Another Greater Paducah step is immediately possible. Besides the fire rates, prospectors inquire about the health of the city. A new law permits the construction of a sewer at a moderate cost and on easy terms. The construction of sewer district, No. 3, is essential to the safety of public health. In addition to this, the health department is continually proposing sanitary measures, which can be carried out at the cost of a little care on the part of residents. For the sake of the public health and their own, and for the good name of the city, citizens should obey the instructions of the department without compelling the officers to swear out warrants. Here we have a real community of interest, and every one shows his or her patriotism and public spirit by regarding the welfare of all in times of peace, as much as he does by bearing arms in time of war.

THE REAL QUESTION.

Of course, the fight between Collier's Weekly and Secretary of the Interior Ballinger adds a spectacular feature to the investigation of the conservation policy of the department; but the public must not lose sight of the main issue: the protection of our coal and ore deposits, water power sites and forest lands from exploitations by huge private concerns. Whether as Collier's says, Secretary Ballinger, has violated the trust imposed upon him by his professional obligations in his private practice; or, whether, as a witness stated Saturday, Collier's offered to pay a man $5,000 to testify in the investigating committee, the only thing that concerns us is the protection of the public domain.

We believe that Richard Achilles Ballinger is not a fit man for the place, because his natural sympathies are with the men, who desire to exploit this latent wealth. However, Pinchot and Glavis went no further than this, while Hampton's magazine and others, whose delight it is to injure the administration in the public eye, subtly appeal, like a socialist, to the covetousness of the reader to make their point. For instance, Hampton's emphasizes the fact that this coal and ore and water site land is "our land," and by imaginary figures proves that the value of Alaskan deposits is a trillion dollars. This, says Hampton's, divided among the people, would give every citizen $60,000. How many anarchists did that statement make? In the first place, Hampton's assures us that not one-twentieth of Alaska has been surveyed, and all its figures are based on "supposing there is so much of this and so much of that in the hills." In the second place, we have no idea of dividing Alaska among the people of this country. If we did, should we give each a pick and a permit, or dig the stuff out at government expense, haul it down to the states and let the congressmen and senators distribute the "cush" as they now do seeds? What a saturnalia would follow the "divvy"! Who would care anything about Collier's fight against Ballinger, while the $60,000 lasted, or who would waste his time reading the "uplift" magazines? We would "blow in" our's and then go around to some Socialist and propose that we start over again on the same "equality"—the equal opportunity to spend the money.

Such stuff is as bad, if not worse, than permitting the Guggenheims to take Alaska. Then it would only do the Guggenheims harm. We expect that coal fuel and iron deposits to be developed by private interests, and we expect the water power sites to be used by private or municipal concerns for the development of power, and we expect the timber to be cut by private interests; but we expect them to be utilized under public supervision to prevent waste and excessive cost to the consumer.

While the people are honestly interested in conservation, we may expect persons and corporations with axes to grind to take advantage of the opportunity to feed fat their ancient grudges; but we must not permit them to lead us into excesses.

Some Stories Around the Town.

Fred S. Newman, 842 South Fourth street, has performed the unusual stunt of writing the word "Paducah" on an average postcard 2,627 times. Of course the letters are small and no space is wasted, but it is quite a feat, and required much time and patience. Young Newman was editor of the Paducah Echo, a small paper, until recently, and is a talented young fellow.

When a lady called up a prominent contractor and asked him if he had not wrecked more homes than most any other man in the city, he glanced apprehensively around to see if his wife was in hearing distance, and was on the point of assuring the lady that his virtue and character were unassailed, when she completed his mental overthrow by confiding to him that she wanted her home wrecked. He recovered in time, however, to make a lucrative contract for wrecking an old house on the site of a proposed new residence—and then he told his wife.

STATE PRESS.

For Governor: James B. McCreary.

It becomes more evident every day that the Democrats of Kentucky, to make sure of winning in the next state election, must choose a standard bearer who will rally to the support of the ticket a party which is united.

It is obvious that our candidate for governor should be a man of recognized ability and tested capacity, of indisputable integrity of character, of unwavering loyalty to the principles of Democracy, and, at the same time, generously endowed with the qualifications of political leadership.

With such a candidate, one whom the party can follow with confidence and enthusiasm, there can be no doubt of a great victory and a safe and joyful return of Kentucky to the Democratic fold.

The New Era believes that, on the broad ground of his pre-eminent fitness, the Hon. James B. McCreary, of Madison county, should be the gubernatorial nominee. His life is an open book; he is a statesman with out a stain; a patriot "without fear and without reproach." Kentucky has no more distinguished citizen and the Democratic party no leader who has rendered more valuable service. It is with pleasure that Democrats will recall that he is one man who has never shown bitterness in defeat. With singular disinterestedness and magnanimity he has fought the battle of the party, in season and out of season, and when there was nothing involved in way of personal gain, and at times when a smaller man would have sulked in his tent. There is not a blot on his political "scutcheon."

It is doubtful that there is in the commonwealth a citizen who has had finer training for public service. He has occupied many positions of honor and trust, and with splendid efficiency. His experience has been varied and extensive. In 1868, he was presidential elector on the Democratic ticket; from 1869 to 1873, he was a member of the legislature from Madison county, and, without opposition, was chosen speaker of the house three successive terms. In 1875, defeating John M. Harlan by an overwhelming majority, he became governor of Kentucky. As a candidate for congress in 1884, he carried eleven of thirteen counties, and served in the lower house of the national legislature for twelve successive years. During this period he was a member of committees on coinage and weights and foreign affairs, and other important committees. In 1892 he was appointed by the president as a commissioner to represent the United States at the international monetary conference at Brussels. His service in congress in 1902 he was elected to the United States senate. As is well known, he was a brave and gallant Confederate soldier, entering the army as a private and leaving it, after the surrender, as a lieutenant colonel.

In politics, Mr. McCreary has never been identified with factions or clans. There is probably no public man with fewer personal enemies. He is esteemed for his character, his qualifications and his attractive personality by political foe and friend alike. He would harmonize all differences in the party; there is no Democrat who could have a reason to oppose him, and he would win votes from all parties.

His nomination would reflect infinite credit on wisdom of the party, and his election would mean a forward step for the state along all lines. He would restore to the office its distinction and dignity, and be a governor that every good Kentuckian would delight to honor.—Hopkinsville New Era.

The Holland Law.

The Holland law, which is to be tested in court, represents peanut politics and pin-headed legislation in its worst form. If it is not decided that the law is invalid, the next general assembly should repeal it. The general assembly that passed the law exhibited, in passing it, a narrowness that does not reflect public sentiment in Kentucky or in any part of the south. Governor Wilson's veto followed the enactment of the measure as a matter of course. Its re-enactment over his veto was a blot upon the record of the general assembly.

The interest of the whole population in the practical education of negroes is such that all efforts that aim at preventing the establishment of training schools reflect discredit upon those who promote them and equal discredit upon those who support the promoters. No matter what its origin, this bill should have been killed. If the court of appeals does not decide it unconstitutional all that should be needed to secure its repeal at the next session will be a campaign of publicity directing attention to its existence and purpose.

From persons who delight in crying down the negro there is an endless flow of criticism of his poor equipment and inability. A theme of constant discussion in Kentucky homes is the general lack of training among negro women who offer themselves for domestic service. The educational institution at which the Holland bill is aimed would train negro girls to become useful domestics and negro men to become efficient laborers. The kind of race prejudice which manifests itself in opposition to such an institution is not entitled to any tolerance among intelligent persons, and it is not general among persons who can lay claim to any degree of intelligence. Usually it finds lodgment in the brains of white persons whose education has been sadly neglected.—Courier-Journal.

Home Course In Live Stock Farming

VI.—Pastures and Forage Crops.

THE cheapest gains on farm animals are made with green feed. Plans should be made to have a plentiful supply on hand at all times. There will be the clover meadows, of course, which will be used principally for hay. Occasionally there will be a luxuriant growth of fall feed on them which can be used for pasture to advantage. This second growth clover is especially valuable for milk cows, calves and hogs.

Permanent Pastures.

Pastures should be rotated where possible. Where a four year rotation is practiced one-fourth of the cultivated land will be in grass each year. This will generally be more than is needed for hay, in which case part of it can be used for pasture. In addition to this, there is usually some land on every farm that is too wet or too rough to be used for anything but permanent pasture. In too many cases these permanent pastures are weedy and unproductive. A flock of sheep or goats will do much to get rid of the weeds. If there are any thistles they should be cut while in bloom and a handful of salt put on the roots.

Where an area of land has been very severely overgrazed in the past it will be absolutely necessary that it be very carefully pastured for the first two or three years. The native grasses and forage plants must have a chance to regain their former vigor and to go to seed. A very large number of stockmen advocate resting the land—that is, keeping all stock off for a period of three or four years. That this remedy will bring about the desired results has been definitely proved in numerous instances.

To increase the productivity it will be necessary to thicken the stand and loosen the soil. The yield of pastures can often be doubled by running a disk over them in the spring. This is especially true if a few pounds of grass seed to the acre are used at the same time. There is nothing better than alsike clover for the wet spots. Redtop is also good in such places, although it is not liked well enough by the stock to warrant its use where better grasses will grow.

Alsike clover (Trifolium hybridum) is a perennial clover whose appearance suggests a hybrid between red and white clovers, but it is not a hybrid. It will thrive on soil too wet for red clover, but on ordinary soil is probably not to be so highly recommended. It should be sown with grasses to give the best results.

The standard pasture grass throughout the corn belt is blue grass. For early spring and late fall pasturage nothing can equal it. It is nutritious, the stock like it well, it is not easily injured by tramping, and it is a good yielder. The chief objection to it is that it practically ceases growth during the hot, dry days of midsummer. At this time it is necessary to supplement the blue grass pasture with some forage crop or have a fresh pasture to turn the stock into. Many stockmen have several different pastures. They stock one heavily, so that it will be eaten down close in three or four weeks, then change the animals to a fresh one while the grass in the first gets another start. In this way greater value can be got out of a certain amount of pasture land. It is a good plan to allow part of the blue grass land to make a growth of six or eight inches before winter. This makes excellent winter pasture for both cattle and horses, and they will thrive and fatten on it. Horses will paw through several inches of snow to get to it. Although blue grass will thrive fairly well in dry and unsheltered locations, it will do better where shaded moderately.

Pasture land partly covered with brush and short timber is a favorite place to secure a good stand.

Orchard grass is next to blue grass in importance as a pasture crop. It is hardly as nutritious nor is it liked as well by stock, but it makes a more rapid growth and continues to grow throughout the summer months. When sown in a mixture of other grasses, as it usually is, the stock are liable to eat the more palatable grasses first, leaving the orchard grass to grow up and become hard and woody. Where the plan of changing pastures is practiced there is little trouble from this source, as all the grass is eaten down quickly.

A good mixture to sow on old pasture before disking is eight pounds of blue grass, two pounds of orchard grass and two or three pounds of some kind of clover. Red clover is good, but does not last long. In most regions where blue grass flourishes white clover will work without seeding in a few years. A mixture of alsike and redtop scattered around the wet spots will complete the renovation of the pasture. From this time on a good disking every spring will keep the pasture in good condition. Any thin spots which appear can be reseeded at the same time. A few trees scattered here and there throughout the pasture protect the stock from heat and flies.

Summer Forage Crops.

With the best of pasture, however, some additional green feed is necessary, especially during the midsummer months. At that time of year, when flies and heat are worst, a slackening in the food supply means a loss in gain on young stock and in milk production from the cows. A well planned supply of forage crops at this time will give larger returns for the land used than almost anything else that can be grown. Forage crops can often be used to good advantage as catch crops where other crops have failed to grow or after something else has been harvested. Forage crops by keeping the land occupied with a rank growing crop help to keep weeds in control. They also enable more stock to be kept on the farm than would be the case otherwise.

One of the best forage crops is rape. It yields heavy crops of excellent feed. It is especially valuable for hogs and sheep. They make excellent gains on rape, particularly if a little grain is sown in addition. Rape should be sown in the spring at the rate of about four pounds to the acre broadcasted or two and one-half pounds drilled. The seed bed should be well prepared. The greatest amount of feed per acre is obtained if the rape is cut and fed. A more economical way of handling it, as far as labor is concerned, is to have small movable pens or a pasture divided into small lots and change the stock frequently from one to the other. If left too long in one place they eat the rape down so closely that it is killed or the growth seriously checked.

Sweet corn is a valuable forage for all classes of stock. A variety which stools considerably should be selected, and the planting should be thick. If cut and fed fresh every day it is greatly relished. It is especially good for milk cows, often doubling the yield. Sorghum and Kaffir corn are also used considerably as forage crops, especially in the southern states. About fifty or sixty pounds of seed to the acre are used when sown broadcast or half as much when drilled. It can be sown with a grain drill by stopping up every other hole. The saccharine varieties make the best feed. If all the sorghum is not used as green feed it can be cut and stacked for winter use. It will have to be left in the field until needed for feeding, as it spoils when stacked.

A Good Forage Crop.
Indian corn makes good forage if sown thickly enough. The largest planter plates should be used, together with the fastest drill attachment, making thick plantings makes small and tender stalks. Corn which has well developed ears is often used as a combined grain and forage crop for "hogging down." The hogs are turned into the field in the fall and left until ready for market. A few shotes turned in later will clean up all the corn which the fat hogs have missed. Lambs get a great deal of feed out of the corn field in the fall, especially if rape has been sown at the last cultivation, and do little damage to the corn.

Excellent fall feed can be obtained by sowing rape or a mixture of rape and clover with the small grain in the spring. If there is moisture enough in the ground after the grain crop is removed a splendid crop of fall forage will be available in three or four weeks. Often the fall feed is worth more than the grain.

An excellent forage crop for pigs is Canada field peas. They should be sown in the spring at the rate of one-half bushel to the acre, together with two bushels of oats. If sown alone the rate of seeding should be two bushels to the acre. The hogs may be turned on when the peas are in the tough stage. In the southern parts of the United States cowpeas and soy beans may be used in the same way.

Millet yields heavily and makes a good quality of hay. It is also used occasionally as a green feed. Millet is a dangerous feed for horses, but may be fed to other classes of stock with safety.

FIG. XI.—HOGS IN RAPE FIELD.

While not strictly forage crops, root crops, pumpkins and squashes answer the same purpose. Sugar beets, mangolds and turnips yield heavily, but require considerable attention during the growing season. Carrots are especially good as a horse feed. Squashes yield as many tons of dry matter to the acre as roots, are just as good feed and are much more easily grown. Pumpkins can be grown in large quantities in the cornfields with little extra labor.

GROWTH AND EXPANSION OF PADUCAH WATER CO.

Reflects Credit Upon This City's Modern Facilities and Places Paducah Far in the Lead Among Sister Municipalities.

Apropos of the belief of the Paducah Evening Sun that the public utilities of this city are in every way of a superior nature, a representative of the Paducah Water Co. to learn more fully its facilities and received from Mr. Muscoe Burnett the following statement:

"We hope we are in the main appreciated for the effort we are exerting toward giving excellent water service to this city, not to speak of the expenditure we make almost constantly in repairing and improvements and in keeping the works generally up to the highest standard. In addition to the service which we try to give we have spent much time and money in purifying the water supply and in installing a pressure which will enable us to give complete service even during a severe conflagration or other emergency. Less than a year ago we re-equipped the pumping station, which now affords a capacity of 33,000,000 gallons, and have laid 39 miles of water-mains on all the principal streets throughout the city. The standpipe has an area of 22 feet and is 175 feet high and is one of the tallest in the country. Its height adds largely to the force of water pressure, which averages from 100 to 125 pounds. The fact that but 40 pounds pressure is required to insure a free flow of water to all parts of the city shows the great reserve power we can control. Some time ago we, as a body, invited the attention of insurance inspectors of the Fire Underwriters Association of America to our water system and after an inspection they were forced to acknowledge that the water supply of Paducah gives ample protection against fire in any class of buildings constructed in this city at the present time and the Fire Insurance companies accordingly reduced the rate of risk on all Paducah property. We shall use our every endeavor to give as good or if possible even better service in the future and to keep pace with metropolitan conditions." Probably many do not realize the direct influence of the Paducah Water Supply upon the good health which they enjoy at the present time. Water that is as pure as clear as crystal and more pleasing to the taste than nectar may yet be utterly unfit to supply the varied needs of a city. It may be charged with salt, limestone, gypsum or some other mineral, thus destroying its usefulness in the laundry or steam boiler, or it may contain disease germs invisible to the eye. Fortunately the water supplied to the city of Paducah is absolutely free from such obstacles as shown by the frequent analysis by experts. Again the growth of the city is largely influenced by this utility. Without good water systems and high pressure building interests would lag, as capitalists would be unwilling to invest money in building structures not safe-guarded against total loss by fire on account of inadequacy of the water supply. Let us therefore render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's, or to speak explicitly, give to our public utilities the cordial appreciation and moral support to which they are justly entitled and bear in mind the good they perform and the privileges we enjoy through their enterprise rather than endeavoring to find flaws in their operations.

West Kentucky (Colored) School Concert.
A concert troop of this city gave an entertainment for the West Kentucky Industrial college at Smithland last Thursday evening. It was a "hit" for the school and was well attended by both white and colored. Judge W. I. Clark delivered the welcome address, during which he gave some of the most excellent advice. Hon. L. D. Threlkeld and the Rev. E. Watt Smith, of the M. E. church, south, made good speeches and highly endorsed the speech of Professor Anderson. The singing by M. L. Jones and Anna McKnight was excellent. They have many invitations to come back again. It is acknowledged that Anna McKnight is not second to Black Patti. Dr. Logan was music director and did his work well. The colored choir of that place rendered some of its best selections.

Patrons of the Water Company are reminded that their rents expired March 31. Those who desire to renew them for this quarter should do so before it is forgotten, as all premises not paid for on or before April 10 will be shut off.

Miss Bess Hall and Mr. Probert, of Louisville, Ky., received a long distance message from Louisville this morning announcing the marriage of her sister, Miss Bess Hall, of that city, to Mr. Sidney Probert, also of Louisville, last evening. The ceremony was solemnized at the Third Avenue Baptist church in Louisville, and was a surprise to the family and friends of the couple.

The bride formerly lived in Paducah and has a host of friends here. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hall, who moved from Paducah to Louisville several years ago. She is an attractive girl of a striking brunette type and was the popular guest of her sister, Mrs. Clark, here last spring. Mr. Probert is connected with a large automobile firm in Louisville and is a popular young man. The couple will make their home in Louisville.

Of Interest Here.
The Memphis News-Scimitar says of a brilliant affair given in honor of popular girls known here:

"Mrs. S. B. Anderson's beautiful residence on Poplar boulevard was the scene of a delightful affair Thursday morning when she entertained with a morning bridge, followed by a 12-o'clock luncheon in honor of Miss Dru Helen Crook, of Jackson, Tenn., and Miss Charlie Scott, of Rosedale, Miss. The house presented an exquisite picture, elaborately decorated in wisteria, pear, peach and apple blossoms, wild quince and yellow jessamine. The guests were welcomed in the drawing room which was handsomely decorated in wisteria and pear blossoms, while lovely palms, artistically arranged, added to the beauty of the scene. In the receiving line were Mrs. Anderson, wearing a becoming gown of brown foulard, with touches of lace; Mrs. Harry Anderson, in white and green silk, with golden embroidery; Miss Charlie Scott, in pale blue chiffon over silver, and Miss Dru Helen Crook, in crimson foulard, trimmed with net and golden applique. At the conclusion of the bridge games, the favors, a dainty green pongee parasol with white dots, a two-tone automobile veil and a crocheted coat set of real Irish lace, were awarded to the most successful contestants. Following the card games a delicious luncheon was served in the large dining room, where the beautiful round table formed an ideal scene splendidly adorned with apple and peach blossoms, wild quince and yellow jessamine buds. The dainty imported place cards were of a French design, and were tied to a bunch of flowers.

Tattooing Deaf and Dumb.
A novel means of identification has been adopted by one of the large institutions for deaf mute children of New York, says Popular Mechanics. The children sometimes wander away or become lost while traveling, and so many of them cannot read and write, it is often a difficult thing to return them to the institution. By tattooing the name and address on the skin it is an easy matter for the deaf mutes to be identified. The tattooing is done in ink that is not indelible, but which will stand for a year or two.

According to information from Bisbee, Arizona, where Deputy Circuit Clerk Will C. Kidd went for his health, his condition is not as bad as reported. His son, Clay Kidd left Saturday night to visit his father. Mr. Kidd desires to return to Paducah, and it is expected that he will be brought home.

Nature's Hair Restorer

WYETH'S
SAGE AND SULPHUR
HAIR REMEDY

One Great Reason Why

This Great Hair Beautifier and Color Restorer
Produces Such Remarkable Results

Sulphur is a Natural Element of the Hair
When there is not a sufficient amount of sulphur in the hair, it loses its life, color and strength, turns gray, and falls out. There are many forms of sulphur, but only one kind that is suitable for treatment of the hair and scalp, and that is the kind used in preparing WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY.

We Have the Secret, and We Give You the Benefit of It at an Exceedingly Low Price

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and cutting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair, and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

The Accommodating Night Clerk.
Up to the night clerk's desk goes Abe Perlmutter, a Chicago traveling man. "I wonder," he says, "could you find me somebody to play a game of pinochle for an hour or two to-night?"

"Why," says the clerk, "I guess so," and he runs his eye over the register. "Boy," he calls, "page Mr. Gutwillig." Before long Mr. Gutwillig is found and introduced to the pinochle-hungry Perlmutter, and a game is arranged. "How did you know I played pinochle?" Mr. Gutwillig asks the clerk. "Oh, I—," begins the clerk. Just then emerges from the bar a young man, triple-plumbed with wine. He staggers up to the desk and says: "Shay, I wanna fight! D'ye hear? I'm lookin' fr a scrap!"

Thus the clerk: "Boy, page Mr. Kelly and Mr. O'Brien." Success Magazine.

STATE WIDE VOTE ON LOCAL OPTION

ISSUE TUESDAY IN 233 ILLINOIS CITIES AND VILLAGES.

Problem, Revived by Petition, Confronts Nearly Every Important Community.

BOTH SIDES ARE CONFIDENT.

Chicago, Ill., April 4.—Illinois goes Tuesday to the stiffest test which has been made up to date in the state between the liquor interests and the anti-saloon forces.

In ninety-seven townships where there are cities and villages which were voted anti-saloon territory two years ago at the first trial of the then new local option law the liquor people are trying to reverse the vote of 1908 and convert the townships into saloon territory once again.

In 126 townships, where the larger cities of the state are located, and which were saved to the wets two years ago in most instances after desperate fighting, the saloon opponents once again are endeavoring to manufacture them into anti-saloon territory.

Few Cities Escape Struggle.
Reports from all over the state indicate that this is by far the most bitter struggle which ever has occurred in Illinois over the saloon question. Practically every city of importance in the state, with the exception of Peoria and Quincy, are involved in Tuesday's contest.

The failure of the anti-saloon element in Chicago to get the anti-saloon question upon the Chicago ballot for Tuesday's election resulted immediately in the flooding of the critical points in the state with the oratory and campaign supplies which had been prepared for the Chicago campaign.

Wet Towns That Will Vote.

Bureau County—Bureau, Mineral, Ohio, Shannon.

Sinking Spells Every Few Days

"At the time I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I was having sinking spells every few days. My hands and feet would get cold; I could scarcely breathe, and could feel myself gradually sinking away until I would be unconscious. Those about me could not tell there was life in me. After these spells I would be very weak and nervous, sleepless and without appetite; had neuralgia in my head and heart. After taking the remedy a short time all this disappeared and in a few weeks all the heart trouble was gone."

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 10, Black Duck, Minn.

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy."

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Springfield, Ill., April 4.—At the request of State's Attorney Alexander Wilson of Alexander County and Gov. Charles S. Deneen, Attorney General William H. Stead will actively assist in the prosecution of the defendants indicted for riot in connection with the lynchings at Cairo, Ill.

Attorney General Stead addressed a lengthy communication to Gov. Deneen in reply to a communication from the executive reviewing the facts which lead up to the recent race governor's communication was a report made by the Alexander County grand jury to Judge William H. Butler, which calls attention to conditions which are "deplorable and alarming," and urges the necessity of adequate and thorough preparation for the trial of the indicted persons. The situation is held to be of grave concern to the entire State of Illinois.

Interest of People Requires Help.
Attorney General Stead's letter to the governor concludes as follows:

"Under the statute of this state, it is the duty of the attorney general to attend the trial of any party accused of crime and assist in the prosecution when in his judgment the interests of the people of the state require it."

"Since I have been attorney general I have been requested upon numerous occasions to assist in prosecutions in the circuit courts. Except in two instances, however, I have uniformly declined. I did not believe that the interest of the state required action upon my part.

"Furthermore, as your excellency is aware, the business of this department is such as to preclude the attorney general, either in person or through his assistants, from assisting in prosecutions in the circuit courts throughout the state.

Cairo Situation is Unusual.
"In my opinion, however, ordinary considerations should not control in regard to the situation at Cairo. This situation was brought about by the action of a mob. Mob law has no place in Illinois. No public officer can render a greater service than to assist in stamping it out. A member of a mob which lynches a criminal, judged by the wrong done to the state, is worse than the criminal, no matter who the criminal was or what he did.

"In view of the facts disclosed by your letter and by the report of the special grand jury and in view of the request made by the state's attorney of Alexander County, in my judgment the interest of the people of this state require that the attorney general actively and vigorously co-operate with the local authorities in the prosecution of the Cairo riot case, and I have this day advised the state's attorney that this policy will be pursued by me."

DELAY ON IN ILLINOIS.

Many Operators Take Advantage of the Shutdown to Comply With Law.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 2.—Advice from the bituminous coal fields received by Thomas L. Lewis, president of the Mine Workers today satisfied him, he said, that the suspension of work pending the signing of a new wage contract would not be long. "I have not been 'talking strike' in Illinois," said Mr. Lewis, "and I am not going to do anything of the sort in western and central Pennsylvania next week. Operators and miners in those three districts, in Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, western Kentucky, and the southwest will all be discussing means of settlement of the questions between them next week. The matter will have to work itself out, and it will work to the end that we will get the demanded wage increase of 5.55 per cent. whether or work by the day or ton.

"In Illinois, the southwest, and western Pennsylvania the conferences will be longer than in the other states."

Cured of severe compound cold and cough by

Vinol

"From Dec. 20, '08, to March 1, '09, I had three bad colds, one on top of the other. I got so weak I could hardly get around. Nothing seemed to help me until I began to take Vinol. The change was magic. Three bottles completely fixed that compound cold and stopped the terrible cough—and what surprises me most, at the same time it cured me of a severe stomach trouble that has bothered me for 20 years. Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine."

Mr. Toppan is one of Lynn's most prominent and highly respected merchants, whose word is as good as his bond.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Sulfur Iron.

er states, but I cannot believe there will be a final break. If the operators in the nonunion districts of West Virginia and that neighborhood would undersell them, that objection to increasing the wages of union miners has been swept away by the news that in practically all of the nonunion coal fields the operators have raised the wages of their unorganized workmen. This is also a plain object lesson.

MADE HIS BED IN VESTIBULE.

Homeless Italian Ejected by Vanderbilt and Whitney Servants.

New York, April.—A poorly clad Italian about 50 years old walked up Fifth avenue yesterday morning carrying a mattress, a pillow, two bottles of wine and two loaves of bread. The sight was so unusual for that thoroughfare that a curious crowd was soon trailing at the man's heels.

At Fifty-seventh street the Italian applied the vestibule on the south side of the Cornelius Vanderbilt house and proceeded to make himself comfortable therein. He had no sooner got his bed in place than he was ejected by a Vanderbilt servant.

Without making any fuss the intruder took up his bed and headed straight across the street for the house of Harry Payne Whitney. Here he once more spread out his bed and once more was ejected—this time by a Whitney servant.

Then Policeman McKee, of the East Fifty-first station came up and took the homeless Italian in charge.

A patrol wagon carried the wanderer to the station house. On the way he spread out his mattress and slept. Amoroso Picolo the police entered on their blotter as the man's name, Dr. Arnold, of Flower hospital, took him to Bellevue for observation. He would say nothing.

THE STOCK MARKET SITUATION.

New York, April 4, 1910.—(Special).—The month of April opened with the stock market hesitating and depressed. Prices underwent a further reaction, and had it not been that stocks were generally in strong hands the decline might have been still more marked. Nevertheless, the big holders had somewhat lightened their burdens and were indisposed to re-enter the market as buyers until conditions of importance could be obtained. It must be admitted that current developments were temporary of an unfavorable nature. The advancing tendency in money was adverse to stocks. In London the stragglers were particularly noticeable, the situation there being aggravated by the British Budget difficulties. The quarterly and fortnightly settlements in London occurred this week; added to which the Government was obliged to meet unusual financial obligations. This imposed a severe monetary strain upon London, the high rates for money there necessitating gold exports from New York. This movement would have begun some time ago had it not been partly offset by liberal European takings of our investments estimated at about $200,000,000. The foreign demand for our securities, however, has suddenly subsided; and the adverse trade balance it is feared will continue until the new crops are available. Considerable quantities of grain and provisions are still held back, and these may be exported later on, thus partially relieving the export situation. Another depressing factor has been a sudden rush to market new securities in unexpectedly large volume. The railroads continue in need of immense sums to keep facilities equal to demands, and a desire to take advantage of the first opportunity the market affords has been accelerated by fear of Federal restrictions upon the issue of new securities. The flotations during March were unusually heavy and it is known that many other important amounts are suspended awaiting the next opportunity. The result is a much congested bond market. The new issues have been readily underwritten; but have not yet found successful placement with investors. Low rate bonds, moreover, are adversely affected by the better rates demanded for money, and the necessity of investor securing as large returns as possible in order to meet the increased cost of living. Short term notes are again coming into prominence as the most feasible method of raising funds for the railroads. One more element of weakness has been the labor situation. The railroads generally have made liberal concessions to their employees, which will materially increase working expenses. How far this will affect net results cannot yet be determined; but railroad managers depend for compensation through an increase of traffic, as well as some advances in rates. Railroad earnings, it is encouraging to note, are already making very satisfactory gains compared with a year ago, and the expectations of traffic managers are for a heavy business next autumn, if not before. Still other causes of uneasiness are, delay in the Supreme Court decisions arising from the death of Justice Brewer, and the general political situation, especially regarding the tariff. It is being more and more recognized that the latter question will not down and must again become the object of political controversy; the high cost of food making the issue all the more inevitable.

Such are the unsatisfactory features of the present situation. They have, however, been pretty thoroughly discounted, and the general outlook is not unfavorable. On the contrary, there is every prospect for another season of good business, provided we have good crops. If there is one thing more than another which the country requires, it is a much larger product of all agricultural necessities. This would insure continued prosperity to the farmers, and afford a much needed relief to the masses, by lowering the cost of living and bringing it nearer to the level which prevails abroad. It is, of course, yet too early to form any opinions regarding the crops, most of the reports of damage to early wheat and cotton having proved to be exaggerated. It is quite certain, however, that there will be a larger acreage of cotton, wheat and corn. The outlook for meats, however, is not so favorable, since it takes more than a single year to raise a larger crop of beef, mutton or pork. So high prices for meats may be expected for some time to come, unless some relief could be obtained by abolishing the duties on cattle and satisfying a portion of our needs through importations. The iron trade, which is still our chief industry, is in good condition. There activity prevails and prices are not unreasonably high. Moreover, many orders are being held back, partly because of the difficulty which the railroads are having in adequately financing their requirements, and partly because some buyers are holding off in the hope of obtaining concessions. So far as this branch of industry is concorned, there is every prospect of continued activity for months to come, especially as soon as easier money enables railroads to buy more freely. The textile trades are suffering somewhat from high prices, which has checked consumption and made buyers think, causing more or less difficulty in the readjustment between high prices for raw material and selling prices for the finished product. There has been considerable curtailment amongst both cotton and woolen mills, the effects of which will eventually serve to steady these markets. The dry goods trade, moreover, anticipates some improvement resulting from the advances in wages which have occurred in many industries, and which will increase the purchasing power of labor.

As to the future, the present period of depression cannot last. Prices receded owing to the temporary condition of the money market, the congestion in bonds and the disturbed political situation, but these conditions have been amply discounted, underlying conditions continue sound, and when it is shown that the existing powers of our great railroad systems and industries are not impaired confidence will return, and the securities of well established properties will be once more in demand and must recover from the present reaction. Such a recovery cannot be very far distant, and should come as soon as easier money is in prospect. The fact that April 1st, usually a period of special disturbance in the money market, has been passed with scarcely a ripple is of itself assuring; and if Europe needs gold the situation will be helped by sending it where it is most required.

The reforms adopted by the Stock Exchange will be welcomed by those who stand for the best interests of its members; and the governing Committee are entitled to generous acknowledgments for the progressive and the courageous stand which they have taken. The reforms introduced are in line with those recommended by the Hughes Committee, and will remove the basis of public criticism. The results will not doubt be beneficial to the Exchange and to Wall Street in general, inasmuch as they will tend to impart confidence in the integrity of dealings there. Much business has undoubtedly been driven elsewhere by hostile opinion, and its removal will stimulate legitimate transactions.

A Big Contract.
Winston Churchill, the novelist, described at a dinner in New York the difference between romanticism and realism in fiction:

"To make my meaning clearer," he ended, "I will take the case of a young man and girl—sweethearts. The young man, a romanticist, said passionately to the girl:

"Darling, it shall be my life's one purpose to surround you with every comfort and to anticipate and grant your every wish."

"The girl, a realist, smiled faintly as she answered:

"Oh, Jack, how good of you; and all on nine dollars a week, too!"—Success.
